From the Editor

Candidate for Department of Virginia Surgeon

I announce my candidacy for the office of Department Surgeon for the 2014-15 year.

I do not take this action lightly and it is only after deep thought that I have arrived at this decision.

I have been active in the Legislative Committee, I chair the Resolutions Committee, I am an associate editor of The Virginia Veteran and as BLOG master I have assisted with information technology throughout the Department. It is through my efforts to refurbish used computers that a number of Posts that could not afford a computer now have one.

As four term commander of the 8th District I have empowered Post leaders to actively participate in recruiting, reporting service hours and carrying out the business of the VFW. Through teamwork we have built a strong and resilient group of Posts.

With over 25 years of corporate management experience I believe I can help the Department of Virginia continue to rise within this great organization. I humbly solicit your support in my endeavor.

From the Commander

First, I want to wish Dave Crowder and his wife all the best with their move to Coral Gables, Florida. Dave has been a loyal supporter of the Post, serving as Trustee, working several recruiting drives, and Buddy Poppy campaigns. Dave has resigned his position as Trustee. I thank Dave for his service.

Now that the days are warming up, we will have a few Community Events. I ask for your help on these activities. We are not asking for a big commitment just an hour or two to assist the Post. Recruiting drives, Poppy campaigns, memorial services, and flag retirements are just a few. Please help.

Election of Post Officers will take place during the Membership Meeting on 7 April 2014 with the meeting starting at 7:30 pm. This year the slate of officers elected has changed due to a change in the National By-laws. The offices of Judge Advocate and Surgeon are now appointed positions. Our slate of nominated officers are:

- Commander Ron Link
- Senior Vice Commander Pete MacLeod
- Junior Vice Commander Steve Botello
- Quartermaster Rick Raskin
- Chaplain Joel Chase
- Trustee 3 Terry Bursey

- Trustee 2 NOW VACANT DUE TO RESIGNATION

Now for the outstanding events during the month:

Merle Hancock received a long overdue honor last month. On the floor of the Virginia General Assembly, he was awarded our Nation's Silver Star some 70 years ago, but finally received it last month.

Rick Raskin has officially declared his candidacy for Department Surgeon. The campaign, if successful would put Rick in line to work his way through the chairs to Department Commander. Good luck Rick

All the best,

Ron

Auxiliary President's Report

We would like to thank all the students for participating in the Young American Creative Patriotic Art Contest. This is the Ladies Auxiliary Scholarship program. I would like to thank the Commanders for their assistance with this program. The first place winner's art work will be forwarded to the state level for judging. If their art work is selected first at the state level, it will be forwarded to National Headquarters in Kansas City, MO for judging. The winner at the National level receives a $10,000 scholarship.

The election for the 2014-2015 Officers will be held on Monday, April 7th during the monthly meeting. The newly elected officers will take their new positions after the Department Convention in June. Please consider holding a position for your Ladies Auxiliary. I would also like to remind the members who have not paid their 2013 dues, to please forward your $20 to Elanor Doczi, 7415 Roxbury Ave., Manassas, VA 20109. Thank you in advance.

We are also in the process of finalizing another fundraiser scheduled for May or June. More information will become available as soon as all the arrangements have been made.

The 8th District meeting will be held on Sunday, April 27th in Culpeper, VA at 1:00pm. District election will be held for the 2014-2015 Auxiliary year. Please come and join us.

We are collecting coupons for the military overseas. You can bring them to the Post at any time. We will see that they are given to the USO. The expiration date is extended another 6 months when they are given to the USO.

As always, please keep collecting Campbell's soup labels for the VFW National Home for Children. We are very happy to receive any labels from the public. Please bring the labels to the Post.

For individuals or family members who are ill or hospitalized, you are in our prayers.

Youth News and Notes

On Friday, March 21, the VFW Post 7589 and Ladies Auxiliary Youth Committee welcomed students and professors from the film club at the Woodbridge campus of Northern Virginia Community College to Post headquarters. The club's goal was to record combat remembrances from Post 7589 members resulting in a production that can be an accomplishment for the students and a legacy item for Post 7589 and something to show school classes and other young people.

I will tell you, this was a professional outfit. It was hard to believe these were students and not a crew from network TV. We had countdowns, instructions and lighting that had to be just so. Professors Bryan Brown and Chris Stallings were in charge and ran a tight ship. Quiet on the Set!!!

We had great participation from the Post: Ernest Merle Hancock (World War Two Army Air Corps, former POW, received the Silver Star), Joel Chase (Army, Vietnam, awarded the Silver Star), Paul Chase (Air Force, Vietnam), Steve Botello (Navy, Desert Storm), Rick Raskin (Army, Vietnam), Pete MacLeod (Army, Vietnam), Richard Cherney (Marines, Iraq).

It was hard to top the incredible narratives of Merle Hancock and Joel Chase but I thought one of the more striking stories came from one of our newest and youngest members of Post 7589, Richard Cherney. He told of his first days in Iraq, on patrol, and the smell of everything (those of us who were in Vietnam know what he is talking about). But he goes on to tell of seeing the dirt around him kicking up and suddenly realizing he was under fire! Well, when the DVD is ready, you can all see and hear his story and those of our other comrades.

Former Post 7589 commander Sam Nealey always used to say he felt confident about the future of this country after reading the Patriots Pen and Voice of Democracy essays each year. Just working with these young college students and seeing the respect they gave each and every veteran they interviewed and recorded made you feel good. Then hearing the very natural way our young Richard Cherney talked about putting his life on the line for our country, you have to be proud and have faith in our youth.

Pete MacLeod,
SVC and Youth Chair

WWII Veteran Honored at Virginia Statehouse

Ernest Merle Hancock of Manassas honored with Silver Star 70 years after he earned it.

Comrade Ernest Merle Hancock was finally awarded the Silver Star some 70 years after he earned it for his gallantry in World War II. Maj. Gen. James Post, director of operations for Headquarters Air Combat Command at Joint Base Langley-Eustis, presented Hancock the award during a ceremony at the Virginia House of Delegates.

Comrade Ernest Merle Hancock

Merle was a technical sergeant in the Army Air Forces and served as the top turret gunner and flight engineer on a B-17G Flying Fortress. On July 18, 1944, his 37th mission, his unit was attacked by 200 German fighter aircraft. "I shot down three German aircraft before our plane was hit," he told Prince William Living last Spring in an article on The Freedom Museum of Manassas, where he volunteers.

There was a fire on his aircraft that caused severe burns to his hips and legs. When ordered to evacuate, he parachuted from 23,000 feet over the vicinity of Ravensburg, Germany and passed out from lack of oxygen. He came to just before landing in a tree in a German forest. Captured, he faced interrogation by the Gestapo before being transferred to the Stalag Luft IV prisoner of war camp.

With the Soviet army advancing on the camp in February 1945, Hancock and the other prisoners were forced to undertake a grueling foot march until they were liberated in April 1945. "It was a long row to hoe," he said.

Through the efforts of Comrade Jerry Martin who suspected that Merle likely hadn't been given the medal he earned, the long overdue honor was finally bestowed at a joint session at the Virginia Statehouse on March 7, 2014.

Del. Richard L. Anderson (R-Prince William) and also a VFW member wore his military uniform to honor Merle during the presentation and also sponsored House Joint Resolution 487 commending him.

Del. Jackson H. Miller (R-Manassas) said the Prince William County delegation has been working on the issue for six months.

Comrade Fishpaw offers Traffic Court assistance to homeless (and formerly homeless) veterans

COL (R) Edward Rinker Fishpaw - JD, Esq.- is a life member of VFW Post 7589. Residing in his hometown of Manassas, VA, "Colonel Ed" has started a part time law practice after retiring from government service. His practice focuses primarily on Traffic Court cases and normally involves reckless driving (speeding) and selected DUI cases. He does not normally handle accident cases as those are usually done by Personal Injury lawyers.

As a trial attorney authorized to practice law in the Commonwealth of Virginia, Colonel Ed has offered to help homeless vets, as well as formerly homeless vets who have "boot-strapped" themselves hoping for a new life. The latter may not qualify for a court appointed attorney and thus are once again stuck in the MATRIX.

(Quoting Colonel Ed: "Hopefully, my brothers and sisters are not still stuck in the MATRIX. If so, may

PEACE be with them and NASTASTE!")

Colonel Ed will provide pro bono legal representation to these homeless and formerly homeless vets if he decides to accept their case. Colonel Ed says that he "Fights for his Clients" and will negotiate with the prosecutor and litigate these traffic cases in a trial court as needed.

For more information, contact Colonel Ed directly by non-confidential email at edfishpaw@gmail.com or leave a short non-confidential message (up to 30 seconds) with your contact information at 703-335-5422.

The Virginia Department of Veterans Services Announces Partnership with the Virginia Employment Commission to Support the Virginia Values Veterans (V3) Program

Richmond, March 7, 2014 - The Virginia Department of Veterans Services (DVS) is pleased to announce that the agency has entered into a formal partnership with the Virginia Employment Commission (VEC) to collaborate on the execution of the Commonwealth of Virginia's Virginia Values Veterans (V3) Program.

As the lead administering agency, DVS will continue the workforce assessment and training programs with substantially revised materials, and the Commonwealth's certification process for participating companies. The VEC, as the assisting agency, will execute the program with highly-trained personnel and its robust data infrastructure already in place.

"This partnership will enable the Commonwealth to maximize the efficiency of service delivery and resource allocation by using existing public infrastructure and personnel. Together, these two agencies will ensure that V3-certified companies will have the best available resources to recruit, hire, train, and retain Virginia's Veterans", notes the Commissioner of DVS, Paul Galanti. Sam Lupica, Acting Commissioner of the Virginia Employment Commission said "The Virginia Employment Commission is proud to be partnering with the Department of Veterans Services on this important initiative. The VEC remains committed to providing the highest level of services to our veterans, and we see this as a great opportunity in that respect. This partnership will afford both the VEC and DVS the opportunity to enhance the services we offer to both Virginia's veterans and employers."

In addition to the collaboration efforts of DVS and VEC, PD Systems, Inc. will provide curriculum development and consulting support to DVS with the purpose of educating businesses, local and state agencies, and other entities on the value of hiring Veterans. This will include curriculum that promotes successful and innovative methods for recruiting, hiring, training, and retaining Veterans.

"We invite both employers and veterans who wish to learn more about the V3 program to visit our website, www.dvsV3.com" says Andrew Schwartz, V3 Program Manager.

About the Virginia Values Veterans (V3) Program

Serving as a national model and recipient of the Innovation in Government Award by Virginia Commonwealth University's School of Government & Public Affairs, The V3 program builds vital public-private partnerships by leveraging state and federal agencies and industry leaders to share resources and educate employers on how to tap in to the exceptional pool of talented veterans, reservists and National Guard in Virginia's workforce. In its pilot year, V3 trained more than 500 employers who have provided over 3,000 jobs for Virginia Veterans and serves to position Virginia as the Most Veteran Friendly state in the nation.

The Virginia Values Veterans (V3) Program is the official Commonwealth of Virginia Department of Veterans Services Program whose mission is to educate and train employers throughout the Commonwealth on the Value of Virginia's Veterans, and to help employers connect with these personnel assets to maximize the productivity of their workforce. Letter from a Senior Citizen to his Senators

Senator Patty Murray
 Senator Maria Cantwell
 Washington, DC, 20510

Dear Senator:

I have tried to live by the rules my entire life. My father was a Command Sergeant Major, U.S. Army, who died of combat related stresses shortly after his retirement. It was he who instilled in me those virtues he felt important - honesty, duty, patriotism and obeying the laws of God and of our various governments. I have served my country, paid my taxes, worked hard, volunteered and donated my fair share of money, time and artifacts.

Today, as I approach my 79th birthday, I am heart-broken when I look at my country and my government. I shall only point out a very few things abysmally wrong which you can multiply by a thousand fold. I have calculated that all the money I have paid in income taxes, my entire life, cannot even keep the Senate barbershop open for one year! Only Heaven and a few tight-lipped actuarial types know what the Senate dining room costs the taxpayers. So please, enjoy your haircuts and meals on us.

Last year, the president spent an estimated 1.4 billion on himself and his family. The vice president spends millions on hotels. They have had 8 vacations so far this year! And our House of Representatives and Senate have become America's answer to the Saudi royal family. You have become the "perfumed princes and princesses" of our country.

In the middle of the night, you voted in the Affordable Health Care Act, a.k.a. "Obama Care", a bill which no more than a handful of senators or representatives read more than several paragraphs, crammed it down our throats, and then promptly exempted yourselves from it substituting your own taxpayer-subsidized golden health care insurance.

You live exceedingly well, eat and drink as well as the "one percenters," consistently vote yourselves perks and pay raises while making 3.5 times the average U.S. individual income, and give up nothing while you (as well as the president and veep) ask us to sacrifice due to sequestration (for which, of course, you blame the Republicans, anyway).

You understand very well the only two rules you need to know - (1) How to get elected, and (2) How to get re-elected. And you do this with the aid of an eagerly willing and partisan press, speeches permeated with a certain economy of truth, and by buying the votes of the greedy, the ill-informed and under-educated citizens (and non-citizens, too, many of whom do vote) who are looking for a handout rather than a job. Your so-called "safety net" has become a hammock for the lazy. And, what is it now, about 49 or 50 million on food stamps - pretty much all Democrat voters - and the program is absolutely rife with fraud with absolutely no congressional oversight?

I would offer that you are not entirely to blame. What changed you is the seductive environment of power in which you have immersed yourselves. It is the nature of both houses of Congress which requires you to subordinate your virtue in order to get anything done until you have achieved a leadership role. To paraphrase President Reagan, it appears that the second oldest profession (politics), bears a remarkably strong resemblance to the oldest (prostitution).

As the hirsute, first Baron, John Emerich Edward Dalberg Acton (1834 -1902), English historian and moralist, so aptly and accurately stated, "Power tends to corrupt, and absolute power corrupts absolutely. Great men are almost always bad men." I'm only guessing that this applies to the female sex as well. Tell me, is there a more corrupt entity in this country than Congress? While we middle class people continue to struggle, our government becomes less and less transparent, more and more bureaucratic, and ever so much more dictatorial, using Czars and Secretaries to tell us (just to mention a very few) what kind of light bulbs we must purchase, how much soda or hamburgers we can eat, what cars we can drive, gasoline to use, and what health care we must buy. Countless thousands of pages of regulations strangle our businesses costing the consumer more and more every day.

As I face my final year, or so, with cancer, my president and my government tell me "You'll just have to take a pill," while you, Senator, your colleagues, the president, and other exulted government officials and their families will get the best possible health care on our tax dollars until you are called home by your Creator, while also enjoying a retirement beyond my wildest dreams, which of course, you voted for yourselves, and we pay for.

The chances of you reading this letter are practically zero as your staff will not pass it on, but with a little luck, a form letter response might be generated by them with an auto signature applied, hoping we will believe that you, our senator or representative, has heard us, and actually cares.

This letter will, however, go on line where many others will have the chance to read one person's opinion, rightly or wrongly, about this government, its administration, and its senators and representatives.

I only hope that occasionally you might quietly thank the taxpayer for all the generous entitlements which you have voted yourselves, for which, by law, we must pay, unless, of course, it just goes on the $17 trillion national debt for which your children, and ours, and your grandchildren and ours, ad infinitum, must eventually try to pick up the tab.

My final thoughts are that it must take a person who has either lost his or her soul, or conscience, or both, to seek re-election and continue to destroy this country I deeply love, and put it so far in debt that we will never pay it off while your lot improves by the minute, because of your power. For you, Senator, will never stand up to the rascals in your House who constantly deceive the American people. And that, my dear Senator, is how power has corrupted you and the entire Congress.

The only answer to clean up this cesspool is term limits. This, of course, will kill the goose that lays your golden eggs. And woe be to him (or her) who would dare to bring it up.

Sincerely,
Bill Schoonover¹

Forbes Introduces Legislation to Protect Military Commissaries

Washington, D.C. - Congressman J. Randy Forbes (VA-04) introduced the Military Commissary Sustainment Act (H.R.4217) to prohibit funding reductions for the defense commissary system in FY 2015, pending a report of the Military Compensation and Retirement Modernization Commission:

“The President’s budget request proposes to eliminate support for our defense commissaries, one of the military family’s most valued benefits. Such a cut would raise prices and reduce the savings to our military families,” Congressman Forbes said. “Reducing commissary service is essentially cutting the pay of those who volunteer to wear this nation’s uniform and is an unacceptable breach of faith with our warriors and their families. My legislation will prevent any such reductions in the coming year, removing yet another burden that our servicemembers and their families would have to face.”

Seeking Purple Heart Recipients

Close to 2 million Purple Hearts have been awarded since the medal was created in 1932, but the National Purple Heart Hall of Honor only has the names of 193,000 recipients in its database. If you or a loved one received a Purple Heart, make sure to add your names to the Hall of Honor, along with photos and narratives of when, where and how the medal was earned. For more information or to submit, go to <http://thepurpleheart.com/>.
